

AMERICA'S WORST CHARITIES

When charities call

The Tampa Bay Times and The Center for Investigative Reporting identified the 50 worst charities in America — organizations that purport to help the needy but devote pennies on the dollar to worthy causes. These tips can help you make an informed decision when the phone rings for charity.

Key questions to ask the caller:

- What is the full name of the charity?
- Do you work for a paid fundraiser?
- How much of my donation actually goes to charity?
- Will any local programs directly benefit? If so, how?
- What is the website address of the charity?

Key facts to know:

- The best charities spend no more than 35 cents of every dollar raised on fundraising costs.
- America's worst charities spend more than 80 cents of every dollar on fundraising.
- Charities that use telemarketing firms and fundraisers are far more likely to receive only a fraction of the money raised.
